

Potential Social Media Posts 2018

Emergency responders are saving at traffic incidents. Slow down and move over, for them, and for you. #moveover

November 11-17 is National Traffic Incident Response Awareness Incident Response is Everybody's Responsibility. We all should do our part. #moveover

When you see lights, vests, or reflectors ahead, #MoveOverSlowDown. You could save a life, or lives, including yours..

Are you an emergency responder? Check out the Emergency Responder Safety Institute (ERSI). <http://ow.ly/idco305WwSO> #SafeIncident

If you are in a crash and your vehicle is drivable and there are no injuries, you should move it to a nearby safe place. #SafeIncident

What should you do if you are in a traffic incident? #MoveIt

Emergency responders have our backs every day when they respond to incidents. How can you have theirs? #MoveOver

If you see emergency personnel on the road, please give them room to work and give yourself room to stay safe.
#MoveOverSlowDown

Tow truck drivers and roadside workers deserve to be safe, too. If you see flashing lights, #MoveOver

When approaching an emergency, law enforcement, towing, or utility vehicle,
#MoveOverSlow Down

What does the Safety Service Patrol do? Learn from this @USDOTFHWA fact sheet: <http://ow.ly/TZBB305Y3Lm>
#SafeIncident

As a driver, your response at a traffic incident scene is as important as the responders trying to protect you. #MoveOverSlowDown

Every day emergency responders save lives at traffic incidents. Learn how you can protect them: <http://ow.ly/nXOY305WskZ>

Next week is National Traffic Incident Response Awareness Week. Follow us to learn how incident responders have our backs, how you can have theirs.#moveover

Do you know what to do passing a crash scene? Eyes front. Slow down, move over, pay attention and don't become another victim to be tended to. #slowdown

Do not become another victim. YOU drive, let THEM tend to the crash. Traffic Incident Response is Everybody's Responsibility.

That's your neighbor in that crash. She'd want you to drive safely through the zone, so she can survive, and you can too. #slowdown