

Call for Presentations - 2016 TIME Task Force Annual Conference

The TIME Task Force is seeking dynamic presentations for this year's annual traffic incident management conference – Oct. 24 & 25 at the Westin Jekyll Island.

TIME's conferences join the various disciplines addressing traffic incident management, including all classifications of first responders, public agencies and private-sector transportation professionals.

TIME is searching for interesting presentations that address innovations, trends, best practices and scene safety. Representatives from agencies, departments and businesses working in incident management are invited to send a brief description of a potential session topic and qualifications for the proposed presenter or presenters.

Only a small number of speaking opportunities are available. Please send all information to info@timetaskforce.com before July 15 for consideration. Be sure to include full contact details.
